

XII International Symposium on Integrating Canopy, Rootstock and Environmental Physiology in Orchard Systems.

Wenatchee (Washington State), USA July 26-31, 2020

Dear Colleagues,

every 4 years the ISHS working groups of Rootstock Breeding and Evaluation (Chair: Gennaro Fazio, PhD), Orchard and Plantation Systems (Chair: Greg Lang, PhD) Environmental Physiology and Developmental Biology (Chair: Luca Corelli Grappadelli, PhD) organize a worldwide symposium at which advances in a range of research topics are presented and discussed.

Hereby, we wish to inform you that the deadline for symposium abstract submission has been open on June 1st, 2019 and will close on September 1st, 2019:

You can submit your abstract directly at: www.actahort.org/members/symposiar?nr=352

Specifications about abstract preparation and guidelines can be found at www.ishs.org/authors

The deadline for abstract submission is September 1st, 2019!

We particularly solicit contributions for the following topics for all the fruit tree crops:

- Orchard systems
- Rootstock Breeding and Evaluation
- Environmental physiology
